BALESCOIN

INTRODUCTION

When Laszlo Hanyecz announced On May 18th 2010 on a forum at bitcointalk.org that he wanted to buy 2 pizzas for a price of 10,000 Bitcoins. a user accused him in the comments that "do you want to get a free pizza?". At that time, no one believed that in 2020, you can establish several large pizza shops with 10,000 bitcoins. Remember this story.

Even now, if someone claims that in the not-so-distant future paper money will give way to cryptocurrencies and that paper money will no longer be used in most sales and financial exchanges, many will not believe it. But this is a fact and cryptocurrencies are heading in this direction. Decentralization, governments' inability to interfere with cryptocurrencies, ease of use, and high transaction speed are the reasons for traders to switch from traditional to digital exchanges.

Of course, for the public to be able to easily use cryptocurrencies in their daily lives, it is necessary to provide suitable platforms and tools. Balescoin intends to create these tools and make them available to the general public.

What is BALEScoin?

BALEScoin is a platform created to expand the use of cryptocurrencies among the general public. We believe that to achieve this goal, we need to create a tool that allows the general public to use cryptocurrencies in their business and daily life in the shortest time and in the easiest way.

Overview of goals and services

Our goal is to create a platform for using cryptocurrencies in all kinds of financial transactions, including different payment methods for online stores or gift cards, issuing cryptocurrency checks or remittances, and dozens of different services. Creative ideas are behind this project, which will be implemented in the first to fourth phases. We are looking to acquire a wide range of financial services that will be implemented over time. Security, speed and ease of using financial tools are our priority.

Invoices with payment links

An easy way to cover a variety of transactions is to create an invoice with a payment link. The invoices you create are settled with cryptocurrency, with the advantage that invoice settlement is dependent on fulfillment of obligations and customer approval. This type of payment increases the security of the transaction. The working method is that the seller of goods or services creates an invoice through the Bal escoin application and sends it to the buyer through the virtual network. The buyer pays the invoice through the link, but the settlement of the invoice is subject to the approval of the buyer.

Bitcoin gift card

Bitcoin gift card is a completely customized gift card that is created for different occasions with the desired background image, title and text. The user can use valid and common cryptocurrencies.

Cryptocurrency cheques (C-Cheque)

Cryptocurrency checks are the same as electronic checks, with the difference that valid cryptocurrencies are used instead of the current currency of each region, and these checks are passed at maturity, just like electronic checks, with the difference that the identity of the recipient and issuer of the check can be unknown.

Cryptocurrency remittances (C-Remittance)

Cryptocurrency remittances are similar to cryptocurrency checks, with the difference that they are deposited into the recipient's account immediately and it is not possible to cancel the remittance.

What is a non-affiliate payment link?

This project is perhaps one of the most practical cryptocurrency payment projects and can create a revolution in this field. By launching this project, the user can create a payment link for any amount of cryptocurrency without relying on any tool, website or program. Our team's focus is on expanding the use of cryptocurrencies in financial transactions and even in the everyday life of the general public. So we are trying to create a platform where anyone can use cryptocurrencies for any purpose like buying, selling, paying or gifting, anywhere and anytime.

BALES TOKEN

We use the BALES token to advance the BALEScoin project goals. We recognize BALES token holders as the owners of this platform and we consider it our duty to try and spread the use of this token in financial transactions and increase its share among the cryptocurrencies. We have considered discounts for using BALES when creating gift cards and completing financial transactions to encourage users to use this token more often. We have also adjusted and limited the amount of token supply in order to stabilize the market based on demand.

Beware of scammers
Be sure to inquire about the documents you receive. Every document you receive contains a link, by clicking on it, you will enter the document inquiry page, check the serial number, amount, date, and the name of the creator of the document. Also, if you receive two documents with the same serial number, it is definitely fake.
If you see something suspicious, ask us.
